BRAZIL FORCES REPORTED NEAR MAJOR CLASH

Rebel Cavalry Skirmishes with Federals Seen as Start of Battle.

INSURGENTS LIST GAINS

Advance Toward Coveted Goal
of Sao Paulo, Is Claimed.

By The Associated Press.
Brazilian revolutionary cavalry, skirmishing with federal forces near Castro, Parana, were believed today to have begun what is expected to be a major battle between the insurgents and government troops near the border of Sao Paulo.

Revolutionary leaders claimed general gains in Parana, both toward Sao Paulo, and toward the Santa Catharina cities of Florianopolis and Joinville, held by the federals, and stated that troops from Minas Geras had invaded the states of Rio de Janeiro, Sao Paulo, and Espirito Santo, cutting the railway line between Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo.

Declare Gains Small
In Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo government strongholds, federal quarters insisted that rebel gains had been negligible. The principal federal offensive was directed toward recapture of Minas Geras, and its capital, Bellow Horizonte. Some advances toward the interior of Minas Geras were reported.

Messages from revolutionary quarters today said the advance guard of the column commanded by General Miguel Costa was near Castro, about 75 miles from Sao Paulo border, and that a major engagement with the Sao Paulo forces was only a few hours away.

General Costa hoped to effect a union of his own troops, numbering 8,000 men, with a Parana state army of 5,000 men.

Revolutionary troops now in Parana number at least 40,000. A valuable prize at stake.

Insurgent forces have considerable at stake in the battle, since a victory will open the way into the wealthy region of Sao Paulo and to the city of Sao Paulo itself. Traveling as they are with few supplies and forage scanty, the rebels will welcome fighting in an area as rich in food and supplies as the great coffee growing section which lies just ahead.

LOCAL REGISTRATION WILL END SATURDAY

Polls To Stay Open Until 9
P. M.; Failure Will Prevent Vote.

Polls will remain open today until 9 p. m. and tomorrow from 1 to 9 p. m. for Marion voters who wish to register and thereby become eligible to vote on Nov. 4.

More than 3,500 voters registered last Thursday, the first of the three days set aside for permanent registration in Ohio cities of more than 16,000 population, while an equal number was expected to be registered today. Tomorrow's registration should boost the total beyond 10,000, in the opinion of election board officials.

Failure to be registered by tomorrow at 9 p. m. will mean the loss this year of the voter's right to vote, regardless of whether he registered for the primary on Aug. 11, it was pointed out. A voter may, however, get his name back on the list for next year's city elections by registering after the Nov. 4 election.

Make Cooking Interesting, Is Aim of Teacher

AT the cooking school sponsored by the Star Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, Mrs. Emily M. Lautz will demonstrate how cooking can be interesting.

The four classes which will be held in the Star auditorium are designed to make housework and the preparation of meals simpler and more fascinating.

While cookery can be made more interesting it is certain that Mrs. Lautz will not discuss housework and daily planning of menus as though they were a merry round of short hours, free of mental and

START FLIGHT ACROSS U. S.

Miss Laura Ingalls, Robert
Buck Hop Off in Quest of New Records.

By The Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 10.—Two young transcontinental fliers took off early today for return flights to the Atlantic seaboard.

Miss Laura Ingalls of St. Louis, flying a D-H Moth biplane, left the Glendale airport, bound for Kingman, Ariz., at 6:13 a. m. Robert Buck, 16-year-old Elizabeth, N. J. flier, departed at 7:11 a. m. for the same destination.

Buck, who had made plans for his take-off early this morning, delayed his start because of foggy conditions reported over Canyon Pass.

Miss Ingalls changed her route and flew by way of San Geronimo Pass to the southward. She had nearly an hour's start over Buck.

Buck recently broke the junior transcontinental record between the Atlantic and Pacific, establishing a mark of 28 hours, 33 minutes, the best previous time for the juniors having been held by Eddie Schneider of Jersey City, 29 hours, 41 minutes.

On the west coast flight, which must make somewhat better time to reduce the present mark of 27 hours, 19 minutes, also made by Schneider.

Miss Ingalls terminated her east-west flight here last Wednesday, her time being 30 hours, 27 minutes actual flying time, setting a new mark for women fliers. She hopes to lower this on the return trip.

At Kingman, Ariz., the young fliers will receive reports on weather conditions farther east.

Associations Select Marion County for Trials.

NEIMEYER MAKES PLANS

Land in West Section Laid
Out for Opening Meet on Oct. 20.

The annual bird dog field trials of the Southern Ohio and the Miami Valley Dog associations have been scheduled for Marion for 10 days starting Oct. 20. O. H. Neimeyer announced here today.

Neimeyer, manager of the trials stated that a record entry of notable bird dogs of the United States and Canada is expected to be brought here for the events. Entries for the trials close Oct. 19 with drawings for the various events.

The Miami Valley trials are being held here this year for the first time, having been held for nearly 20 consecutive years in southern Indiana. The Southern Ohio trials were held here for the first time last year.

Enthusiasm over the unusual success of the trials held here last year and with the natural facilities for handling the events officials of the Miami Valley group decided to hold its trials this year in conjunction with those of the Southern Ohio association.

O. H. Neimeyer stated today that it is expected that at least 150 dogs would be present for the trials. Entries are expected to include a large number of the finest dogs from all sections of the country. Several notable pointers and setters have already been entered and it is expected that a last minute entry rush will cause the total number of contestants to exceed that of last year.

The trials will be run off in the region west of Marion in the vicinity of Agosta. Drawings for the trials will be held Sunday, Oct. 19, in the Marion hotel, headquarters of the associations during the trials.

CAMPAIGN DEVELOPS ADDED HEAT IN OHIO

Political Fight Regarded as Liveliest State Has Seen in 10 Years.

By United Press.
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 10.—The campaign of Ohio politics, boiling furiously since it has for 10 years, took on added heat today as Republican and Democratic candidates continued hammering the state in a series of tours that touched almost every community.

Supplementing the various speeches, most of them republished with fiery barbs, state headquarters of both parties here were busy chronicling the slightest event or speech that, in any way, had any bearing on the campaign and the hopes of the candidates.

Others Counting
Republican state headquarters today announced that on the heels of Vice President Charles Curtis, chairman of the Republican national committee, to meet the issue of prohibition, challenging them to "admit they are satisfied with the crime and corruption prohibition has brought on."

These will include Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde, Congressman John C. Ketchum of Michigan, Renick W. Dunlap of Ohio, assistant to Hyde; former Governor D. W. Davis of Idaho and Congressman Leo C. Dyer of Missouri.

Almost every Democrat of state prominence has gone on the stump for the Democratic ticket headed by Robert B. Harkley of Cleveland, candidate for the U. S. Senate, and George W. White of Marietta, Cooper's gubernatorial opponent.

Vigorous Hug Worth $72, Judge Decides

By The Associated Press.
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 10.—A fellow who hugs with rib-crushing ardor should hardly be punished, Municipal Judge Levi Hall holds, when the embrace results in two broken ribs.

Miss Anna Millow was suing Edward Hensley yesterday for $75 damages because he hugged her with such enthusiasm as to crack two ribs. She paid a doctor $5 to repair the damage.

"I'll give you a judgment for the $75 doctor bill," Judge Hall said, "but for the other $72—well, a good squeeze like that is worth $72."

ENGINE FAILS

SPANS OCEAN

Ship Lands on Isolated Beach
In Scilly Islands on English Coast.

FLIERS WITHOUT RADIO

Preparations for Reception of Daring Aviators Made
at Croydon.

By International News Service.
CROYDON, Eng., Oct. 10.—With their veteran plane crippled by engine trouble, Captain J. Errol Boyd and Lieutenant Harry P. Connor made a forced landing on an isolated beach in the Scilly islands today, successfully spanning the Atlantic ocean from east to west and earning new laurels for an old machine that had a previous ocean crossing to its credit.

Word received by air ministry officials here said the plane had come down at Treavor, near St. Mary's in the Scilly islands, off the westernmost tip of England.

A message to the air ministry from the Treavor coast guard, timed 12:30 p. m. (Marion time), said the fliers had come down near there because of engine trouble. The time of their landing was not revealed in the message.

News of the forced landing was the first word to come through since the Columbia had been sighted at 9:35 a. m. (Marion time) by the British steamer Vigilant 200 miles west of Penzance, on the west coast of Cornwall.

Treavor is near St. Mary's in the Scilly island and is off the coast of Cornwall. It is one of the most outlying spots off the southwest coast of England.

No details of the plane's landing were received but apparently Captain Boyd, Canadian aviator, and his companion, Lieutenant Harry Connor, American flier and navigator were safe.

No direct communication with the Columbia was possible as she carried no radio.

The distance from Harbor Grace to the Irish coast is about 1,700 miles.

The plane in which Chamberlain and Levine flew to Germany three years ago from New York, and which has achieved a multitude of flying feats, confronted a good deal of fog along its course but had generally favorable winds and the weather was clear this morning near its goal.

The Columbia, which at one time held the unofficial endurance record and the longest distance flight record, is equipped with the same motor and wooden propeller with which Chamberlain and Levine flew to Germany.

Captain Boyd is a veteran flier. He was the first Canadian to enlist in the Royal Flying Corps in the World war and was shot down over Holland, where he was interned. After the war he returned to Canada and has been engaged in commercial flying.

Lieutenant Connor is an experienced mariner and navigator, with several years' experience at sea in the United States navy.

Last summer Boyd and Connor, with Roger Q. Williams, made a non-stop flight from New York to Bermuda and return in the Columbia.

Before the take-off Captain Boyd expressed his full confidence in Lieutenant Connor's ability to direct the plane on a true course by dead reckoning.

"This is proved," he said, "by the fact that on the Bermuda flight Connor navigated me two hours through heavy rain and low ceiling until, much surprised, I found myself over Hamilton harbor. If we had been one mile off our course we would have passed the island unseen."

Marion Co. Mortality Rate Shows Slight Decrease

Marion county's death rate this year probably will be lower than last year, if figures for the first half of the year are any indication, according to Dr. N. Siffritt, city health commissioner.

The death rate in this county dropped from 13.5 to 11.6 per thousand figures available for the first six months of each year show. Only 26 deaths were reported in the county for the first half of 1930 as compared to 337 for the same period a year ago.

The mortality rate for the entire year is lower than last year, the annual summary of statistics just received by Dr. Siffritt from the state department of health indicates. If the rate continues, the health of Ohio citizens will be the best this year in 20 years, according to the report, since the rate so far is 11.6 as compared to 13.2 in 1929.

Deaths due to the automobile increased during the first half of 1930 as compared to the same period last year, according to the summary.

A total of 150 deaths resulted from collisions with railroad trains as compared to 75 for the period of the year previous, a 200 per cent increase, the report shows. Collisions with street cars and in-

Daily Proverb: "That best becomes every man which he is by nature intended to perform."

Henry Ford is said to hope to make his plant
at Duganham, England, bone dry. A desert in that section would be mighty conspicuous.

John Bull was able to lead the dominions up to the free trade trough, but fell down utterly
in his attempt to make them drink.

The safety deposit boxes of Joseph F. Crater,
the missing supreme court justice of New York, were found to be empty. As a "clean-up"
artist the Tammany jurist seems to be in a class by himself.

Gifford Pinchot, Republican nominee for governor in Pennsylvania, is denouncing the Philadelphia ward leaders who have deserted him.
We'll say this for Giff: as a persistent denouncer, he is in a class by himself, no matter what
the field of denunciation.

Having thought the matter over, Senator
Nye has decided to resume the investigation of campaign expenses and not wait until after the election, as he announced a few days ago. On reading the announcement of the original plan, we had a feeling that Gerald could hardly be himself to cause a hiatus in the flow of publicity.

It has been discovered that the Vienna government has paid a contracting firm $900,000
annually for seven years for building a tunnel—
or rather pretending to build it—which was dug by Austrian and Hungarian troops during
the World war, a fact unknown to the present
Vienna government. Evidently taking advantage of stupid officialdom to work graft is not limited to any particular hemisphere.

The cutting of two little veins, a gathering of purgees out in Kansas City was told, will cure
people suffering from cold feet. We have heard of addicts to the game of poker who couldn't
be cured of suffering from cold feet were their feet amputated.

The dramatic students at Princeton have listed "Lysistrata," "Artists and Models," "Dynamo," "A Farewell to Arms," "June Moon,"
"Pleasure Man" and "The Strange Interlude"
as immoral and harmful to public morals. The least the managements can do will be to send
the Princetonians season passes by way of appreciation for the publicity.

The New York City courts are holding the tear gas pistol from which a bullet may be fired to be an illegal weapon, but that will not seriously discommode the city's criminal element—the only civil element permitted to carry guns. It pins its faith on the efficiency of the automatic.

In other words, the report of the special
grand jury in Chicago bears out the very
general belief, the country over, that crime
and racketeering up there is due to an alliance
between the city's criminal world, crooked
politicians and crooks in its police department,
as unholy an alliance as is possible anywhere.

Britain Plans To Protect Traffic.

Drastic changes have been made in Great Britain's traffic laws which are intended not only for the protection of vehicular traffic and
pedestrian convenience but for the protection
of British streets and highways as well.

Under the new traffic act all motorists must be insured against third party risks and must produce their insurance certificate when seeking a license or on demand by the police at any time. All must qualify in regard to fitness to drive and no applicant suffering from extremely defective eyesight, or suffering from disabling fits, heart attacks, epileptic fits or mental diseases will be granted a license. To pass the eyesight test, applicants must be able to read number plates at distances ranging from thirty to thirty-five yards. Steel tires are to be practically prohibited, almost all heavy
vehicles being compelled to use pneumatic
tires. Vehicles engaged in passenger transport must maintain their schedules or be penalized.
This is to do away with the possibility that three or four buses may appear at a stop in three minutes and no more appear for the next twenty. Non-breakable glass will be compulsory in all new vehicles and possibly in those already in operation.

It goes without the saying that, in Britain,
the tests to which applicants will be made to
submit will not be merely perfunctory, but real.
Britain has enacted the new code as a protective measure, rather than for the purpose of raising revenue as has been done and is being done in some states over here.

Were the incompetent, the physically and mentally unfit, the reckless and the irresponsible drivers of motor vehicles eliminated from traffic here in America there would be a decided change for the better in motoring conditions and a marked decrease would speedily
be manifested in the awful death toll of traffic
accidents.

Those "Unfriendly" Stories.

Were it devoted to more worthy endeavor,
the persistence manifested by those circulating
stories that Senator McCulloch is unfriendly to Labor and Negroes might be classified as commendable. Devoted to a campaign of misrepresentation, however, it is deserving only of contempt.

Readers of these columns will recognize the stories as the same that were circulated at the time the nomination of Judge John J.
Parker as an associate justice of the United States supreme court was before the senate
for confirmation. At that time, the stories
were uttered in opposition to the confirmation of the Parker nomination. At present, they are being circulated in opposition to the campaign of Mr. McCulloch to succeed himself in the United States senate, the absurd charge
being made that he manifested unfriendliness
to Labor and Negroes by supporting President
Hoover and voting to confirm his appointee,
Judge Parker, as associate justice.

Judge Parker, so the one story goes, on one occasion advocated that parts of the constitution and the rights of Negro Americans be disregarded. The occasion, as nearly as can be ascertained, was in 1920, when Mr. Parker,
as the Republican nominee for governor of North Carolina, was making a political speech.
He knew what all his listeners knew—that a Negro in North Carolina has to be able to read, write and own property before he can vote. Any speech enlisting the support of qualified voters, therefore, would be addressed to the white voters, since the number of Negroes who qualify in that state is negligible.

It is not advisable, of course, for those circulating the charges to remember this, lest a lively issue in the Anti-McCulloch campaign
curl up and disappear. There is something extremely inconsistent, it may be said, in the spectacle of northern Negroes throwing their support to the candidate of a party which, in many other states, does everything possible to prevent Negroes from voting—and all because Senator McCulloch voted to confirm a man
who would have given the South representation
on the federal supreme bench.

The other story being actively circulated—
the unfriendliness-to-Labor story—also loses a large part of its force when application of it to the candidacy of Senator McCulloch is sought.

Judge Parker was co-author in 1927 of an injunction decree in a struggle between coal miners and operators in West Virginia. The decree forbade representatives of the United Mine Workers from bringing influence to bear
on miners who had signed company agreements, referred to as "yellow dog contracts,"
to join the union. Judge Parker said specifically that the decree forbade "inciting, inducing
or persuading the employees of the plaintiff to break their contracts of employment." He and his two associates, in their decision,
merely repeated the opinion of the United States supreme court, which held in the Hitch-man Coke and Coal case of 1917 that it was illegal for union officials to attempt organization among men who had signed so-called "yellow dog" contracts. If at the same time the men retained their employment. In other words, it is sought to make Senator McCulloch
suffer for a decision of the supreme court
made back in 1917, which is rather extraordinary in the light of the reception given President Hoover in Boston Monday night,
when he addressed the national convention of the American Federation of Labor. The President, who made the Parker nomination, was enthusiastically greeted, while here in Ohio
voters are being asked to penalize the senator
who was among those voting to confirm the nomination.

Somebody has made those charges that Senator McCulloch is unfriendly to Labor and unfriendly to the Negro race which are floating
about in the van of the anti-McCulloch campaign, and somebody is interested in keeping them active. It is misrepresentation hardly worthy of those employing it.

France has placed an embargo on Russian wheat and meat. In this one case, at least,
France has the courage of its convictions.

"If women are wise," says Henry Ford, "they will become a growing power, but in the bosoms of their families, not in industry." And to think Henry doesn't know how he has been bossed all these years! Subtle work in the Ford household, we'll say!

A writer holds that, having renounced war,
the world, to be consistent, should renounce armaments. It might help a lot, were the world to go at least half way and renounce arguments.

HOUSE CLEANING.

Good-bye, battered desk, faithful writing desk,
good-bye!

She is giving you, I trust, to a worthier than I.

And is putting in your place a contrivance
from the shop.

An efficient business desk with a vast and
shiny top.

Good-bye, battered desk! You were worth your weight in gold.

For your pigeonholes and drawers and four
dusty shelves could hold

All my documents so well that with hardly any stir

I could almost always tell pretty nearly
where they were.

Good-bye, battered desk! I shall miss you
night and day.

Your supplanter has two slides and a pen-
and-pencil tray.

And a lot of clever tricks, with a filing system too.

Which inspires me with awe, and I don't know what to do.

Good-bye, battered desk! I shall mourn you
late and long.

You have played a noble part in the History
of Song.

You had just the proper breadth to accommodate my scrawl.

But on this unbounded waste, shall I ever
write at all?

Good-bye, battered desk! Be as happy as you can.

In a world where woman jeers at the conscience of man

To the shabby hat and coat and the blackened
briar bowl,

Though he grips the true and tried with the fibers of his soul!

SWAPPIN' SEASON.

Editorial Opinion.

THE ETHER CHANNELS.

Major General George S. Gibbs, chief of staff of the United States army, declared that radio, which now is responsible for most of the international communications, elaborate
networks that have spread over the globe during the past decade, will play a most important part in both the cause and the result of the next war. He speaks with confident expectation that there will be a "next war." Many think him in this belief. The activities and attitudes of world governments appear to confirm it.
General Gibbs points out that while radio
may operate as a barrier to future wars, it
also may operate as a medium for propaganda
which may bring about another international conflict.

Wars, often, perhaps usually, have been caused by economic competition. General Gibbs contends that modern world communication systems not only augment international trade, but make peoples and nations acquainted
with each other all over the earth to a degree never before existing in history. The prospect
has its agreeable and idealized suggestions,
but, in the opinion of this expert authority,
these same systems may be used by political
or radical groups for the propagation of destructive propaganda. In time of war, cables can be strangled and cut by an army, but the ether channels are indestructible. The protection of long-distance radio channels can be assured only upon the retention of sovereignty.

General Gibbs argues that new rules of international law would have to be adopted for both belligerents and neutrals in their use of radio in time of war. No prohibition of radio reception can be imposed or compelled in future wars. The reasons should be obvious.
In any event, it is the opinion of this authority
that it would be better to utilize the capabilities
of radio broadcasting than to disregard them.
Always there is gloom to mar the fairest picture of human relationships. What should be considered to be one among the greatest of earthly blessings conceivably may become a source of social disintegration and destruction.
But the world has endured through myriad centuries of vicissitude, and we can not give up the hope that it may continue to endure,
progressively, for the betterment of the human race. Yet General Gibbs' forecasts are not too lightly to be dismissed from consideration.

Early Ohio Lobbying.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

Lobbying was practiced in Ohio with the very beginning of the operation of the legislature. In "The Life of Nathaniel Massie,"
founder of Chillicothe and Manchester, by Hon.
J. Meade Massie, there is preserved a copy of an account between General Massie and J.
Taylor, Esq., who seems to have had some project in mind for which they required the favorable consideration of the legislature in 1811. This legislature sat in Zanesville, and was the one that fixed the state capital at Columbus.

What the subject was is discreetly not brought out in the account. They had employed William Surratt to go to Zanesville to look after the matter and advanced him $33.
Lobbying, like everything else, was cheap in those days.

After crediting Messrs. Massie and Taylor
with the sum advanced, Mr. Surratt sets out his expense account going to Zanesville, $2,633.
For expenses at Zanesville for nine days,
$17.06, of which he adds $5.81 for a wash-
man fifty cents. Expenses, returning home, were $2.06. He therefore had a balance of $10.06 to return to his employers.

Mr. Surratt was a pretty honest lobbyist as will further be seen from the fact that he explained that the expenses of remaining in Zanesville nine days after the business of his employers was concluded were paid by himself.

ents in Kansas City, Missouri. The bride and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Uncapher, months before the wedding.

Hands Indicate Character.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

A great deal can be learned of a person's health and character by the appearance of the hands. Care of the hands is really supremely
important, and there are very good reasons
why every one should give attention to the subject.

Scrupulous cleanliness of the hands prevents many an infection from disease germs. Think of all the things you touch with the hands.
Try as you will, you can not avoid contact
with contamination of one sort or another.
When the hands are neglected the result is
hannulitis, breaks in the cuticle or outer skin,
or other broken surfaces. Any of these openings in the skin may be the gateways for some bad germ to enter the body. Soiled hands and fingernails carry a host of germs, many of them germs of disease. It depends upon your resistance to disease whether or not these germs become active in the system.

It is very necessary to wash the hands frequently during the day with warm water and soap. Every child from earliest years should be taught this lesson. The gentle use of a nail
brush helps very much to thoroughly cleanse
the hands and fingernails. A fine pumice stone or pumice powder may be used to remove stains from the hands, or an excessive amount of dirt. Persons, particularly the feminine
members of the family, who have tender skins,
find a soothing hand lotion helpful in keeping
the skin soft.

Proper care of the hands is surely indicative of character. Almost always one scans the face and hands of a new acquaintance, even without thinking, to note their appearance.
Many a mental note is instantly made. Slovenly dress and unkempt hands usually go along with a "don't-care" attitude toward life. If you would be successful in the world you must think of these things. You may not be able to dress in the fashion of the hour, but neatness of person, tidiness in dress and clean face
and hands will carry you a long way to success. They are silent witnesses of character.

A common blemish of the skin of the hands
is a wart or a cluster of them. Boys often have them, and girls, as well. Adults sometimes have them. They are not serious in youth, and can be removed very easily by the family physician, practically without pain. In advanced life, however, they are more significant because
one of them may break down into malignant growth. It is better to have the warts removed when first they make their appearance.

Almost any one may have freckles on the hands. This is true at the end of the summer when the direct rays of the sun have turned the pigment cells to a yellowish brown
color. Many times they remain on all winter.
But they are perfectly harmless.

Very often a mixture of glycerin, alcohol and Cologne water is effective in whitening the skin. Don't do silly things in order to bleach
out the important covering of your precious body.

What Is Life?

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

A popular song of the day is entitled "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." Unfortunately, the author is unable to resolve that eternal mystery. Ernst Haeckel wrote a great scientific treatise entitled "The Riddle of the Universe."
But even he could not solve it, with all his knowledge, insight and wisdom.

Even the great scientist, Darwin, stands
baffled before this great mystery, behind which lies the figure of a benevolent creator. In his
"Origin of Species" he says:

"It is interesting to contemplate a tangled
bank, clothed with many plants of many kinds,
with birds singing on the bushes, with various
insects flitting about, and with worms crawling
through the damp earth, and to reflect that these elaborately constructed forms, so different from each other in complex manner, have all
been produced by laws acting around us. . . .
There is grandeur in this view of life with its
several powers, having been originally breathed
by the Creator into a few forms or into one;
and that, whilst this planet has gone cycling on
according to the fixed laws of gravity, from so simple a beginning endless forms most beautiful and most wonderful have been, and are being evolved."

All through the ages philosophers and scientists have been trying to supply some definition of life. Most of these definitions seeks to take account of the continual flux which characterizes the vital process. The best minds of all generations have made attempts to formulate a definition of life. But the problem is far too complex to be summed up in a few lines of definition.

Some of the definitions are merely negative
in character, and in no sense illuminating. For example, Bichat defines life merely as "the sum total of the functions which resist death," such
a definition does not get you anywhere.

Aristotle gives a better definition when he describes life as "the assemblage of the operations of nutrition, growth and destruction." But this is not a definition of life; it is merely a description of the different phases through which life passes. Dr. Bainsville gives a ponderous, but scarcely helpful, definition of life
as "the two-fold internal movement of composition and decomposition, which takes place
within an individual without destroying his identity." Perhaps the most highbrow definition of life ever attempted is that of Herbert Spencer: "The definite combination of heterogeneous changes, both simultaneous and successive, in correspondence with external co-existences and sequences."

All of these definitions are cited by L. L.
Woodruff in "The Origin of Life." But he outspokenly confesses: "Although many physicochemical phenomena contribute to life, not one of them will serve as a criterion and all of them collectively do not offer, as yet, a satisfactory explanation. . . . All will undoubtedly admit that we are at the present time
utterly unable to give an adequate explanation
of the fundamental life processes in terms of physics and chemistry. . . . Certainly the twentieth century finds relatively few representative
scientists who really expect a scientific explanation of life ever to be attained."—Copyright,

First Bootlegger—"Worse than that. I've had men go."

"I say," exclaimed a customer in a drug-
gist's shop who thought he had been over-
charged, "Have you any sense of honor?"
"I'm sorry," said the druggist, from force
of habit, "I have not, but I have something
just as good."

Young Travelers

CITY police this week had occasion to assist two Washington, D. C., fathers, whose children, a boy and a girl, aged 15 and 18, had suddenly disappeared from their homes in that city.

Police communicated with authorities in cities the parents thought the couple might have visited. The parents had come to Marion in pursuit, but went no further when police offered to assist them.

Before many hours, during which telegrams flashed to and from Chicago and other cities, police located the boy at Cedar Lakes, Mich. Under arrest there, he admitted the runaway, and said he and the girl had parted in Detroit.

The girl was located a short time later in Chicago. That night, one of the fathers left Marion for Cedar Lakes, Mich., the other for Chicago, to return the youngsters to their homes.

Imposing Name

ALTHOUGH it is known as the election board, the organization that governs elections in Marion county has a much more suspicious name.

The official title of the organization, whose headquarters are on East Center street, is the Board of Deputy State Supervisors of Elections of Marion County. The name occupies the greater part of the top of the organization's official stationery.

Sad News

THE time was between 4 and 5 p. m., Monday, during the play of the important fifth game of the world's series. Two women were walking west on Center street near Central Junior High school. There wasn't a radio within hearing distance. One was talking, "Oh, boy! Did I ever hate to leave that place? One man out, the bases full and Grimes in there pitching his heart out to Max Bishop. I could just die! Exciting? Believe me, if old Grimes ever gets out of that hole, they will give him St. Louis on a platter!" They passed out of range and no one had the heart to tell her about how that eighth and ninth innings finally turned out.

Long-Lost Friend

FOR more than 40 years T. A. O'Leary, clerk of the county board of commissioners, hadn't seen or heard from Albert B. Moore, an old friend back in Hutchinson, Kansas. Recently the mailman brought O'Leary a card from the man, who has since moved to Bates City, Mo.

SOCIETIES MEET

Two LaRue Missionary Groups Hold Regular Sessions.

LARUE, O., Oct. 10—Mrs. C. H. Topliff was hostess to the Baptist Missionary society at her home Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Topliff assisted by Mrs. J. W. Freshour conducted devotionals. "Sketches of Missions in Assam" were read by Mrs. J. W. Hoagland and Mrs. Jesse Greenwood. "The Story of Mary, Mother of Jesus" was read by Mrs. Willis Clark and the character "Deborah" was described by Mrs. J. W. Freshour. Mrs. Charles Gillespie was a guest. The next meeting will be Nov. 12 with Mrs. D. K. Drake.

The Missionary society of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Paul Ridgeway and held an all day meeting Wednesday. The purpose of the meeting was to sew for a Navajo Indian school in New Mexico. After a covered dish dinner a program on "Law Enforcement" was given. Mrs. C. A. Hughes conducted devotionals of the "Scrap Book" and Mrs. W. P. LaRue reviewed a chapter, "Individualism" from the study book Mrs. G. E. Mouser and Betty Young of Marion and Mrs. Keith Ridgeway were guests.

GARAGE LOOTED

Tires, Tools and Supplies Taken By Thieves

The Rengert Bros. garage on state route 98, better known as the Columbus-Sandusky road, near Kings Mills, was looted last night, according to Fred Williams, road deputy in the office of Sheriff John J. Francis.

Burglars escaped with a large quantity of tools, tires, supplies, and candy. Entrance was gained by breaking in a window with a piece of pipe. Once inside the garage, the burglars opened the door and carried nearly $ of any value from the b an automobile outside.

The burglars left no c

YOUNGER Every Week

Slaving over the old tub and scrubbing on the washboard seems to take a year off one's life every washday!

There's no need for it . . . you can actually feel younger each week . . . if you let an "Easy" Wringerless Washer do your laundry work. It washes and damp dries at the same time. It does away with that "all-in-washday" feeling.

Start life anew . . . resolve to get younger . . . banish the washday blues with modern laundry appliances . . . such as we handle.

9 extra things that only the EASY WASHER will do:

1. Absolute Personal Safety—no menacing wringer.
2. Washes and Damp-Dries at the same time.
3. Blankets, Pillows, etc., washed and damp-dried.
4. Rinse without handling clothes until ready for the line.
5. Rainy Day Convenience—line-dry indoors without dripping hems.
6. All water emptied for you by automobile-type pump.
7. Saves Mending Time—no broken buttons—no torn clothes.
8. Saves Ironing Time—no deep, hard creases.
9. Safety Switch—no blown fuses.

THE ROSE IN THE DARK

BY ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS
A beautiful girl, engaged to a rich young idler, is thrown into love with his brother, a penniless "Saxey" who is a doctor. She must choose between the choice of a wife and the choice of a doctor. He has given her a tiny ivory rose as a love token.

CHAPTER 6
A Merciful Mistake
"YOU will, of course, make no attempt to see Mr. Grannock," the words hammered on in Halley's brain. So sure was Dr. Lytton that she would make no attempt to speak to Saxey Grannock before she left the house that he had gone back into the drawing-room and shut the door.

She began to sob; long gasping sobs that wrenched at her breath left her trembling. She put one hand against her lips to stifle the sound and another to her breast to ease the wrenching pain that lodged there. Under the stiff print and calico of her uniform her fingers could trace the outline of the ivory rose.

She stood rigid, fighting for self-control. The voices in the drawing-room rose and fell. Upstairs, servants were occupied; they moved from one bedroom to another. She told herself that she could not possibly face them. She decided that she would leave the house now, at once, just as she was. The few possessions she had brought with her could be sent to her lodgings.

Half-blinded by her misery, she threw aside her apron and cap, opened the front door and ran down the steps. The drive led past the drawing-room window but there was another way of getting out into the road she had accompanied Dr. Lytton that way on the previous evening when he had given her his final instructions about—about—She clenched her hand sharply upon the ivory rose; senseless to recall that at this moment!

She turned the corner of the house and stood still. She had come, unknowingly, to the window of the study. In front of it, standing on the path, was Saxey Grannock. The sight of him took the strength from her limbs and the blood from her face. She stood stricken, dumb, unable to move forward or backward. Her hand opened slowly and the ivory rose slipped on to the gravel.

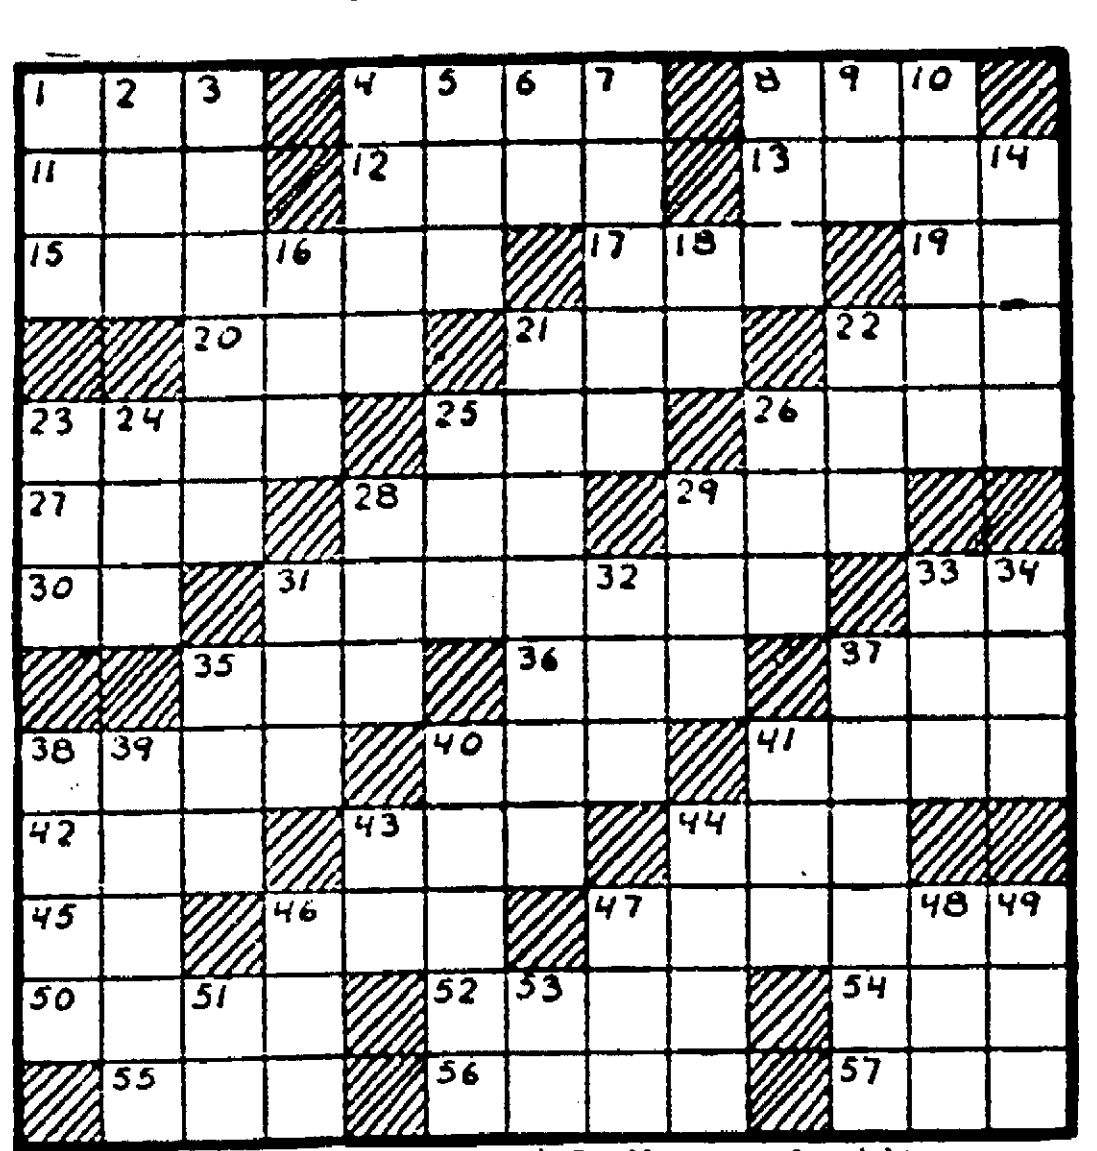

"Who is that?" demanded Grannock. She had assumed that he would be in bed or at most moving uncertainly about his shabby room. "Who is it, please? I—I can't see at all now."

Halley could never afterwards remember what the words were that were torn from her. What had she cried to him—that her heart was breaking, that her life was there at his feet, that the ivory rose had betrayed them both to loss and despair?

Love's Reawakening

A Wife's Triumph Over Jealousy

BY ADELE GARRISON
Noel began to show the strain, but I saw the cruelly etched lines of extreme fatigue around his mouth and made a quick decision.

"Walk with me into the other room," I made the words a command, rather than a request, and he obeyed with the docility of a well-trained child. When we were beyond the sight of the other dancers I took my hands from his arm. "Look here, Noel," I said with emphasis. "I did not realize how much this thing has taken out of you. Now I shall be able to manage Mary much better if you aren't in evidence for a little while. These youngsters are having such a hectic time that they would miss none save one of their own number. If—when Mary asks for you I shall tell her you went upstairs for a little while."

"Better say 'if' he interposed with a twisted smile. "You know better than that," I said sternly. "And I want you promise to go to your room and lie down until Mr. Underwood or Mr. Graham comes for you. I shall not let you stay too long, and I'll promise you this much—Mary will make no decision concerning any dancing engagement until she has consulted you. Will that do?"

"You ought to know how implicitly I believe in any promise of yours," he said. "And I shall be glad to be alone for a little while. All this is—too much—for me."

Why are some happy when thrust into leadership and others down right annoyed by being expected to lead?

"Trying to do?" I snatched the words from him, for I wished to end the colloquy before some stray pair of dancers could circle us. "Of course, Noel, we all see that. He has brought Colin Cameron here tonight in the hope, first, that his personality would attract Mary and win her from you. Failing that—and I think your father knew there was no chance of that happening—he has planned to have young Cameron play upon Mary's love of dancing and of the limelight—call it her vanity if you wish—until she will be receptive to some theatrical offer, which, of course, by your father's will make her."

Noel stared at me. "Oh, you see that, too," he said at last. "That was what I meant when I asked you to 'wait and see.'"

Farm Bureau Workers To Hold Periodic Meetings

Representatives of Agricultural Organizations from Several Counties Attend District Session Here; Outline Plans for Membership Drive in State.

Enthusiasm prevailed at the annual membership drive of the Farm Bureau, as a discussion of service managers in the Farm Bureau district at Marion was held yesterday.

After a day of talks on various problems peculiar to the service managers, commodity managers and insurance representatives, the 26 Farm Bureau workers present decided to hold similar meetings periodically. The second meeting of December was tentatively set as a date for the next session.

County problems are not the only things on the agenda. Farm Bureau cooperative work, D. M. Smith, manager of the service department of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation told the men in a talk on his department, "A $5,000,000 Business."

"Thirty Thousand Farmers Can't Be Wrong" in feeling the need of an organization such as the Farm Bureau, but there is a possibility of them being wrong if they place their trust in a crew of Farm Bureau workers that aren't giving the service they should, Carl Bair, of the organization department of the federation, said in a talk following lunch.

Talks by these two men and plans for the membership drive in which the Farm Bureau hopes to add 10,000 members, in the state occupied the afternoon session of the meeting.

In the morning, three topics were up for discussions in which discussions participated. Questions and answers from others present followed each talk.

To acquaint members with the various services offered by the Farm Bureau and to furnish these services is the duty of the service manager, Vance Clever and Ira Smith of Richland county said in talks on "Building and Serving a Membership."

Service managers, commodity salesmen and insurance salesmen should boost each other, and further the interests of other departments than their own, as well as stimulate interest in their own work, it was pointed out in talks on "Down the Road Together," by W. E. Krauter of Crawford county and Jerald Miller of Marion county.

Discussion on how to furnish members with Farm Bureau services was continued in talks on "County-Wide Service" by H. A. Board of Union county and L. W. Beecher of Delaware county.

E. K. Augustus, district organization manager, and Roland Leeper, district commodity manager, took an active part in the meeting.

In addition to those taking part in the program, the following men were present: Walter Shaffer of Crawford county; R. K. Randolph of Richland county; Henry Baker of Morrow county; Paul Smith of Marion county; W. S. Braden, tri-county manager.

at the home of Mrs. Nancy Coleman in the evening. Mrs. Coleman accompanied Mrs. Culp to her home at Franklin where she will visit for the next few weeks.

REVIEW DENIED AT HEARING

Supreme Court Upholds Decision on Rehearing of Hand Bond Case.

Special To The Star
COLUMBUS, Oct. 10.—Sustaining the judgment of the local common pleas court some time ago against H. N. Oberlander and George Rinsel, bondsmen for Wilbur Hand, convicted robber now serving time in the Ohio penitentiary the Ohio supreme court Thursday denied the bondsmen's application for a rehearing of the court's former order overruling their motion for a review of the decision of lower courts.

This action however has no bearing on the two actions now pending in the court of appeals, in which the two bondsmen and their attorney, Alfred S. Lentholt, are involved. One is a prosecution of error on a decision of the local common pleas court denying a remission of the $25,000 bond and the other an appeal from a contempt of court citation against Attorney Lentholt, as a result of his alleged refusal to surrender money on deposit.

THE PHELPS TWINS, Florine and Irene Phelps, who have graced several Broadway productions, will lend their vocal harmonies to the third edition of the Radio Folies Friday at 10 p. m. over WABC and the Columbia network.

Football Rallies Is New Idea in Grid Broadcasts

FIFTEEN-MINUTE "football rallies" will be broadcast over the Columbia network this fall immediately preceding the broadcast of college football games.

These "rallies" will be musical programs devoted exclusively to the college songs of the two teams engaged. It is believed that this will give radio fans much of the atmosphere they miss by not actually attending the game.

The first rally will be heard Saturday between 2:15 and 2:30 p. m. preceding the Notre Dame-Navy game and will come from the studios of WABC, Columbia key station.

Nat Brunloff and his orchestra will play the songs of Notre Dame and Navy. At the conclusion of the concert the stadium at South Bend will be switched in and Ted Husing will describe the game play by play.

Chicago will be the scene of an interview between Christy Walsh and one of the country's leading football authorities Friday at 10:30 p. m. when the widely known sports writer and manager talks with Knute Rockne, famous coach of the Notre Dame eleven, over the Columbia network on the probable developments in the game to be played the following day.

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, Oct. 11

A VERY active and interesting day is forecast for the predominant stardom influences. While things will move rapidly, and there will be a strong impulse to launch into bold adventures, yet there is an adverse aspect to thwart the plans and also it may be difficult to successfully approach those in authority or employers. Social, domestic or affectional affairs may engage the attention and there may be a disposition to overindulge, or be extravagant, in this direction.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a very lively and interesting year with both business and personal affairs moving at high pitch. While new schemes may be subject to hazard through duplicity or fraud, and the employment may call for safeguarding, yet the general affairs are happy and fortunate. A child born on this day may be versatile, brilliant intellectually and of great personal charm, yet it may incline to extravagance and undue indulgence in this direction, to the jeopardy of its worldly interests. It may lean toward subtlety and expediency, and suffer from such methods.

With Graham McNamee and William C. "Bill" Munday as the announcers, the National Broadcasting Company will report the Navy-Notre Dame and the Army-Swarthmore football games through extensive networks Saturday afternoon.

ACTOR PREFERS TO LIVE IN ENGLAND

Young American Thinks British Atmosphere More Conducive to Quiet Living.

HOLLYWOOD—Phillips Holmes, film star son of Taylor Holmes, wants to follow in his father's footsteps and become a musical comedy star.

Films, in which a brilliant future has been prophesied for him, do not tempt young Holmes as much as the musical comedy stage.

"I love musical comedy work," he rhapsodizes. "Whenever I go to New York, I make up my mind to see all the best serious plays and then, instead, I take in all the musical shows.

"I have always been thrilled by my father's comedies. I suppose I inherited it.

Then, after a few years of giddy living as a famous actor, this quiet, modest, appearing young man wants to retire to England, where he spent three years at Cambridge University, and live quietly—meditating over his ten, talking with his old university friends, living slowly, to a ripe old age.

"There is something marvelous about England. People live more quietly there. The climate is moist and they live to a great age, wonderfully retaining their youth."

The three years young Holmes spent at Cambridge almost turned him into an Englishman. Except for his unmistakably American smile, he has the same manner, the same concise speech, of any other young Cambridge man.

"If you want to go to England to study, I would advise Cambridge rather than Oxford, because you get the English atmosphere more there. At Oxford I understand there is such a colony of Americans that they do not mingle freely with the English students. To me, half the charm of an English university is one's acquaintance with Englishmen."

NICE BEDFELLOW

By United Press COLORADO SPRINGS — Dinky Moore, an employe at the Summit house on Pike's Peak, reached down at the side of the bed to turn off the alarm clock. He felt the fur of an animal's back. A bobcat had entered through an open window and gone to sleep under the bed. The animal clawed Moore's arm and then escaped through the window.

PRISONERS OUT OF LUCK

HASTINGS, Neb. — Hastings's new city jail will have the effect of doing away with the partial payment plan of paying fines. Since the city now has proper jail facilities, those who can't pay their fines can enjoy the residence in the new jail building, city officials announced. The law provides that the payment of fines shall be made at once, or imprisonment, but leniency had been shown, on account of the lack of jail facilities to permit the time to be paid on the installment plan.

Plea for New Ohio Radio Station Up for Hearing

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—A plea by Edwin J. Kruse of Warren, O., for permission to establish a new radio broadcasting station at Warren was before the federal radio commission today.

Kruse told the commission that merchants, business men and civic leaders desire a station as a community project and that radio reception in the area is very poor. Only WTAM, Cleveland, can be heard plainly, he said. KDKA, Pittsburgh, and WLW, Cincinnati, fade away, while it is impossible to get WCAE, Pittsburgh, on the same channel as the proposed station, Kruse asserted.

FIRE D
because he was always
tired

IN EVERY WALK of life you meet the "Drowsy Bills" . . . men and women who are losing out because they are always tired. They try hard enough . . . but most often the poisons from constipation sap energy and strength—and bring illness, defeat and old age prematurely.

What a pity, when eating a delicious cereal could prevent it all! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation! Two tablespoons daily—at every meal, in severe cases.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings relief in a natural, healthful way, by sweeping the intestines of all poisonous wastes.

Eaten regularly, it helps keep the system healthfully clean. Isn't this far better than taking pills and drugs that are often habit-forming and may become ineffective?

ALL-BRAN also adds iron to the blood. It is a delicious cereal with milk or cream. Use it in cooking too. Recipes on the package. At your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Let me speak for my friends who love Good Coffee

Says Mrs. Speaker

A GROUP OF WOMEN . . . Mrs. Speaker and her friends . . . recently discovered Old Reliable. They decided it was an event of such great importance that they must write us immediately about it.

MRS. SPEAKER SAYS for her friends that never did they take such pride in serving a coffee to guests as they do in serving Old Reliable. They say it creates an atmosphere of distinction that is inimitable.

FURTHER, they tell us that Old Reliable has quieted forever all coffee complaints which used to ruffle the quiet of the family circle.

AND THEY'RE GOING TO TALK about Old Reliable, they tell us, until every woman in their town is using it!

THAT'S typical Old Reliable enthusiasm. Folks write us that their mothers used it . . . they use it . . . and they expect their children to use it!

THE COFFEE-CUP-COPS must take a bow with us. It is their sure knowledge of coffees . . . and their cup-testing of Old Reliable . . . that keeps it constantly at the topnotch of perfection.

ARE YOU ONE of the thousands of Old Reliable enthusiasts? You will be . . . after just one cup of this distinctively out-of-the-ordinary blend.

WARDEN WARNS BIRD HUNTERS

Shooting of Pheasants Out of Season Punishable by Heavy Fine.

Warning that stringent measures will be taken to halt the wholesale slaughter of pheasants out of season was issued today by O. H. Niemeyer, state game protector, following the report that the practice of shooting game birds from automobiles has been prevalent in this county.

This practice has become most apparent on rainy days when the birds seek open places. Dozens of them may be seen along the roadside, where they go to escape the wet leaves and grass that form their shelter in dry weather. Many pheasants have been shot from automobiles while the birds gather along the roadside, Protector Niemeyer said.

Offenders will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, which provides a maximum fine of $200 for taking a game bird out of season. Each bird constitutes a separate offense. Automobiles of hunters who shoot the birds out of season while sitting in an automobile are liable to confiscation.

The warning was issued shortly after the arrest of C. A. Beery of Marion, charged with an offense of this nature. Beery was fined $100 and assessed $10.95 costs in the court of C. F. Gast, mayor of Prospect. The fine was assessed on a charge of having a pheasant in his possession.

Beery was arrested Wednesday after Protector Niemeyer had pursued him several miles in an automobile. During the chase, Beery is said to have thrown the birds from the automobile.

NEW LIGHT RATES EFFECTIVE OCT. 20

Electric Users Benefit from City Ordinance During Month.

Although new electric rates in Marion were not technically in effect until yesterday, Marionites have been benefiting from the new rates since Sept. 20 and 21 when meters were last read, according to L. C. Stang, vice president and general manager of the C. D. & M. Electric Co.

When meters are read beginning Oct. 20, all bills will be computed under the new rates, and Marion consumers will pay for October service under the new schedule.

Ten-year electric rate ordinances were passed by city council Sept. 9, fixing the domestic rate at eight cents for the first 40 kilowatt hours; the next 20 at five cents, and all above 60 kilowatt hours at three cents. The minimum charge is 75 cents.

The old domestic rate specified the first 200 kilowatt hours at eight cents, and all above 200 at a sliding scale rate. The old minimum charge was 60 cents.

Revised rates for commercial, industrial, street lighting rates and charges for the operation of traffic signal lights also became effective today.

The new domestic electric rate is said by city officials to be one of the most attractive in the state. Only two Ohio cities, both obtaining service from the same company, have lower rates.

International News Service, Oct. 10.—The second time Alfred Leuthold, Buena Vista, and his son, Emerson, failed to obtain damages from the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. in federal court here for injuries received when a mail train they were riding was derailed by a Pennsylvania train, had ended unsuccessfully. The case in federal court for the second time yesterday and resulted in a verdict for the defendant, the fact that the circuit appeals had reversed a Principal Charges Communists With Spreading Propaganda. LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—Charles that dissemination of communist propaganda in Los Angeles high schools by students was latent, and that 20,000 stands of arms in Communist hands in Los Angeles foreshadowed a revolutionary attempt to be launched here Nov. 24, were being considered today by congressional committee investigating communist activities. The charge of Soviet activity in the local schools was made yesterday by Thomas Elson, principal of Roosevelt High school. He said the work of young communists had been evident for years and was on the increase. In four major high schools, he said, the propaganda work was "intense." From 30 to 100 students in each of the city's 31 schools were active propagandists, he said.

Authorizes Notes To Meet Drouth Emergency

By The Associated Press. COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 10.—The state tax commission yesterday issued an emergency order permitting local taxing authorities to issue notes or borrow money where emergencies caused by the prolonged drouth warrant extraordinary activity. The action of the commission was approved by Governor Cooper as a means of raising funds to combat epidemics and provide employment on public works. The commission said it was prompted to act on the matter by epidemics of diphtheria, scarlet fever, typhoid fever, and infantile paralysis in several southern Ohio counties, most seriously affected by the long dry weather.

Man Who Hasn't Shaved Since Prohibition Hailed Into Court.

By The Associated Press. SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 10.—Al Preusser, Red Bluff, his long hair and longer beard waiting defiance at prohibition, strode into federal court, pleaded not guilty to a liquor charge and was acquitted after a brief trial.

It was the third time he had faced liquor charges. On one occasion he was convicted and served a six months' sentence. At the time prohibition became effective, Preusser declared it "wouldn't last long." He asserted he would not shave or cut his hair until the law was repealed. His hair falls to his shoulders and his beard already has passed the two-foot mark.

FOLLOWERS of the football squad of Harding High school will have the last opportunity to witness the team in a Saturday game at home. There will be one more home game for the Presidents but this will be played on Friday afternoon.

Findlay will come to Marion next Friday to play its annual engagement with the Bolyer team. Following that game Harding will meet Bucyrus, Mansfield, Shelby and Springfield away from home with one open date coming between the Mansfield and Shelby battles.

The game with Ashland Saturday is Harding's opportunity to win its first game of the year. It promises to be a hard fight though and Ashland has just as good a chance to emerge the victor as the local team. If the Marion outfit plays as well as the Ellys game Harding should register its first victory. If it fails to do so the fourth defeat looms probable for the locals.

The complete play-by-play account of the Harding-Ashland struggle will be published in the football extra of The Star following the game. Besides the Harding-Ashland game there will be accounts of the games between other N. C. O. teams as well as the leading college games.

The football extra will be on the street about 6 o'clock.

TO PLAY IN CHICAGO

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—The big intercollegiate contest of the negro college football season, between Tuskegee Institute of Alabama and Wilberforce Ohio, university, will be played in Soldier field stadium. The teams, which played to a 6-0 tie last year on the same gridiron, will meet October 25.

N. C. O. COMBAT STARTS IN EARNEST

HARDING TO BATTLE ASHLAND; MANSFIELD ENTERTAINS GALION

Local Eleven Rated Even with Invading Team; Galion Slight Underdog.

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor, The Star
WITH Ashland journeying here tomorrow to meet the Harding team on the Fairground field and Galion being entertained in Mansfield the heavy combat of the N. C. O. league is due to commence. To date only two league contests have been played, one resulting in a win for Galion over Harding and the other seeing Mansfield wallop Bucyrus. The victory for Galion and Mansfield puts these two teams in a dead-heat for the top post. One of these is due to be relegated to second position at the end of Saturday's battle.

While Ashland is battling the Harding High team and Galion is playing Mansfield, Bucyrus will be resting, preparing for next week's clash with Ashland. Chick Young's Shelby Whippets will be meeting Willard on the Shelby field. Shelby has yet to play a league engagement this year. It is due to meet its first league competition next Saturday when it tackles the Galion outfit.

Houseworth at Full
Already having had three defeats plastered on it in as many starts Harding has worked hard this week in an effort to iron out enough of the rough spots of the team to gain a victory over the fairly strong Ashland team. Coach Bolyer and his aides have been experimenting with a new backfield combination which promises to add offensive strength to the team and still not lessen its defensive ability.

It is probable that Houseworth will get the call this week at the starting fullback post in place of Bob Bush. Bush will move over to a wingback post and continue to do the kicking for the team. Who will be at the remaining back posts may be questioned. With Morgan, regular quarterback on the sidelines with a sore leg Wright and Hunt or Wright and Lindsey will probably start. Lindsey apparently has the inside track on the job. Wright is almost a certainty to start.

Sloan on Bench
With the exception of Sloan at right end the line which took the field at the start of the Ellys game last Friday night will more than likely be the same. Sloan has a bruised kidney which will not allow him to play this week. He may be back for next Saturday game. Either Aspaugh or Pickler are slated to fill his position. Pickler seems the most logical as Aspaugh returned to uniform only this week after a spell of sickness.

Clay and Smith will again be at

BUCKEYES DOPED TO LOSE TO WILDCATS

Purple, with Bruder at Full, Holds Experience Advantage Over Ohio.

BY LATHROP MACK
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 10.—Hunting wildcats, especially purple ones, will not seem at all fantastic to Ohio State's football team by game time in Evanston, Ill., tomorrow. The Buckeyes, with a hard-running attack and a sturdy line which permitted only half a dozen first downs to Mount Union and Indiana, will meet in Northwest-ern, probably their sternest foe of the year.

Thirty-two Buckeyes left last night for Evanston while nine others were to follow tonight. Coaches and players readily admitted they feared the purple more than Wisconsin, Michigan, or Illinois. The remaining Big Ten foes, while the Pittsburgh and Navy games, although important, will not figure in the conference race.

The Bucks are given a fighter's chance against Northwestern, but that's all. The Purple are much more experienced and have distinct advantages on the line and in the backfield. If Hank Bruder keeps his health and plays the greater part of the game, Northwestern should win comfortably. Bruder has proved either to be a brittle athlete or the target of well-aimed bumps by desperate opponents who try to halt his running, kicking and passing game. He may get one in the Ohio game.

Coach Sam Willaman plans to keep his star tight end, Wesley "All American" Foster at his old job and to use Bob Horn of Columbus, at fullback.

the tackle with Eckenbarger and either Skinner or Jevans at the guards. Eric Williams will be at the snapperback post unless a slight injury causes Royer to keep him on the sidelines at the start of the game. That is not likely but if he does not start Guthrie will take the pivot post.

Although Ashland has by far the most impressive record of games won and lost this year the two teams will start the battle on a fairly even basis. Harding has lost every start but has improved and has played teams of far higher caliber than Ashland. Ashland at the start of the year was scheduled to do things in a big way in the N. C. O. circuit but thus far has not shown particular ability against tough opposition.

championships on several occasions. He has played with three local teams, the Masons, Eagles and Shovels, the latter two having won the title in their respective leagues in '28 and '29. He is a member of the city baseball commission.

Bacon managed the Marion Steam Shovel professional cage team that knocked the Isaly Dairies out of the city championship in 1927 after the milkmen had held it for five straight seasons.

Bacon has one five-year-old boy, Billy, whom he is counting on to tear up the grid sod with flying cleats at some later date. He also has a nine-year-old girl, Betty Ann.

Besides his activities in sports, Bacon is personnel director of Marion's largest industry, the Marion Steam Shovel Co., and also is proprietor of the Van Sey Chemical Co., located in Mt. Gilead, O.

A clean, hard-fighting sportsman in all that he undertakes, Bacon has carved a niche for himself among the foremost leaders in the Marion Sportsman's Hall of Fame.

SOUTHERN GRIDDERS TO INVADE NORTH

Georgia Battles Yale at New Haven; Georgia Tech Meets Carnegie Tech.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Although such purely sectional battles as Colgate-Lafayette, Princeton-Brown, New York University-Villanova and Syracuse-Rutgers are on tomorrow's eastern football schedule, interest centers in the march of southern conference invaders into the strongholds of the north.

Georgia hopes to make it two in a row from Yale at New Haven but the visitors will be underdogs despite the 15-0 victory they scored a year ago at Athens, Ga. At Pittsburgh, Georgia Tech's formidable machine which bowled over South Carolina 45-0 a week ago, encounters Carnegie Tech's high-powered Walling Tech eleven with the final result distinctly in doubt.

For two other conference teams, Virginia and Washington and Lee, prospects are not so bright. Virginia must tackle Lud Wray's Penn outfit at Philadelphia while Washington and Lee is facing West Virginia at Charleston, W. Va. Navy, somewhat of a disappointment in its opening 19-6 triumph over William and Mary, encounters Notre Dame at South Bend. Pitt should have little trouble with Western Reserve at Cleveland, but Wittenberg will be no push over for Washington and Jefferson at Springfield, O. In the east's remaining interconference game, Cornell should have a romp with Hampden-Sydney at Ithaca.

Practice contests occupy other big eastern teams. A year in Princeton Prep school and he transferred his athletic activities—and incidentally his scholastic activities—to little Wabash college in Crawfordsville, Ind. Thirteen letters were presented Bacon for his athletic efforts while in the Crawfordsville school. Probably the best known of the sport combinations of which he was a member was the basketball outfit which played for several years under the popular caption of "The Wonder Five."

Turns to Pro Sport

Professional sports with their promising offers lured Bake further into the field of athletics following his scholastic and college accomplishments. Playing his first year in the Kitty league, a minor baseball circuit, he led the loop in batting, an accomplishment which obtained for him a trial with the Detroit American league team.

From Detroit he went to Quincy in the Three-Eye league, thence to Fort Wayne in the Central loop. Leaving baseball for aviation during the war he donned the spikes again after the conflict with the Little Rock team.

Baseball not occupying sufficient of his time, he turned his attention to pro football, and wore the mole-skirts of several of the outstanding pro grid squads of the country. Playing with the Dayton, Ohio, Triangles, the Chillicothe, O. team and the Portsmouth Spartans, Bake is credited with being the only man ever to completely stop Jim Thorpe, the "one and only" of gridiron greatness in the United States.

On Two Champ Teams
Bacon has not been the whole show by any means in Marion recreational baseball since he came here, but he has provided enough punch to several teams to make them dangerous contenders for city

CRONIN CHOSEN MOST VALUABLE PLAYER IN AMERICAN LEAGUE

Sensational Shortstop of Senators in Majors for Only Two Years.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Joe Cronin, sensational young shortstop of the Washington Senators, today was proclaimed the American league's "most valuable player" for 1936 by a special committee of members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

The writers, representing each American league city, cast their votes at the request of the Associated Press for the second successive year since the league abandoned its custom of making an official selection.

Cronin, although playing only his second year as a major league regular, merited sufficient votes to beat out Al Simmons of the Athletics, the league batting champion, and Lou Gehrig, slugging first baseman of the Yankees, in a close contest. Cronin, selected as Washington's most valuable performer by every one of the eight experts, led with a total of 48 points out of a possible maximum of 64.

Simmons and Gehrig were tied for second place with 39 points each. Charley Gehringer, Detroit's second baseman, was fourth with 36, Ted Lyon of the White Sox, fifth with 26, and Wesley Ferrell, Cleveland's sensational young pitcher, sixth with 25 points.

Simmons was the choice of most of the experts for first ranking, being put at the top of the list by four of the eight critics, but his chances of winning the honor were reduced by the nomination of Lefty Grove and Mickey Cochrane by other experts as the representatives of the world's champions.

Cronin, on the other hand, was given top ranking by only one writer but he was second on four other lists and placed twenty-five

OHIO COLLEGE TEAM IN DECISIVE BATTLE

B. A. A. in Final Warmup Games; Pitt Invades Western Reserve.

By The Associated Press
CANNONADING will be heavy along Ohio's gridiron fronts this week-end, beginning with five games tonight and continuing with a score of struggles, most of them important, on Saturday.

The invasion by Pittsburgh, Washington and Jefferson, Grove City, West Liberty and Davis and Elkins, brings five of the best teams in the Allegheny range into the state.

Ohio conference games are numerous and important, especially the Case game at Oberlin while all five Buckeye conference teams have scheduled hard opponents as final tuneups for the campaign which starts next week. Several of them, including the usually mighty Ohio Wesleyan squad, will be lucky to come off with a minimum of injuries or avoidance of defeat.

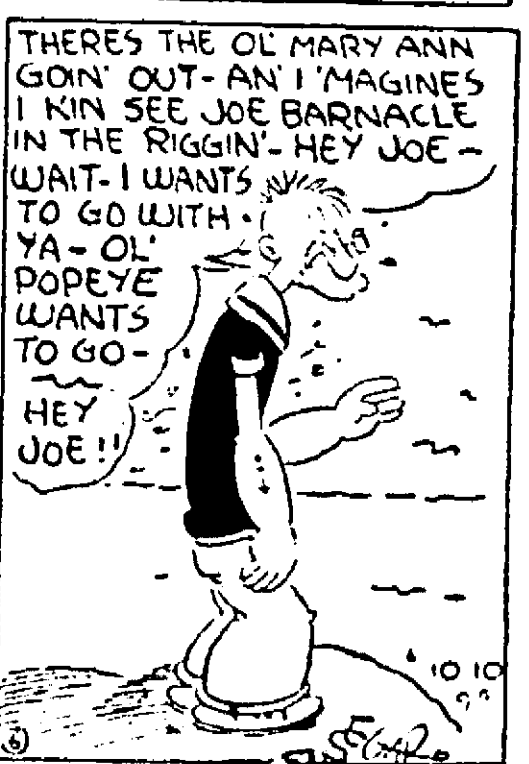

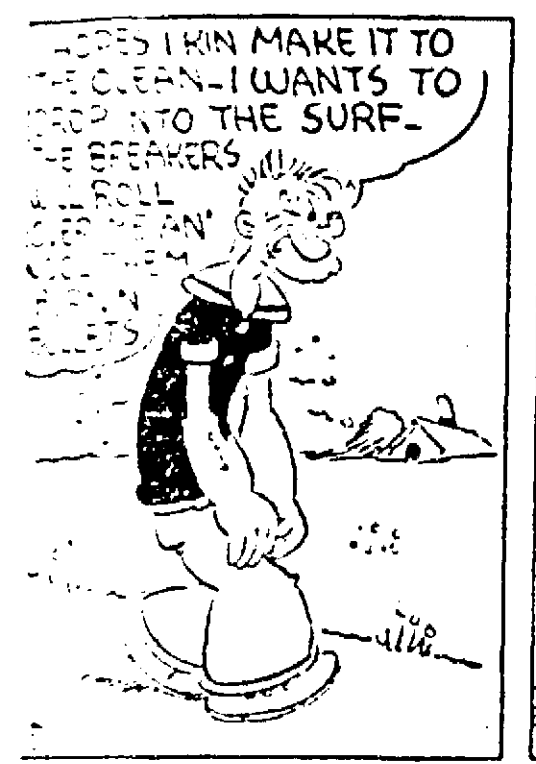

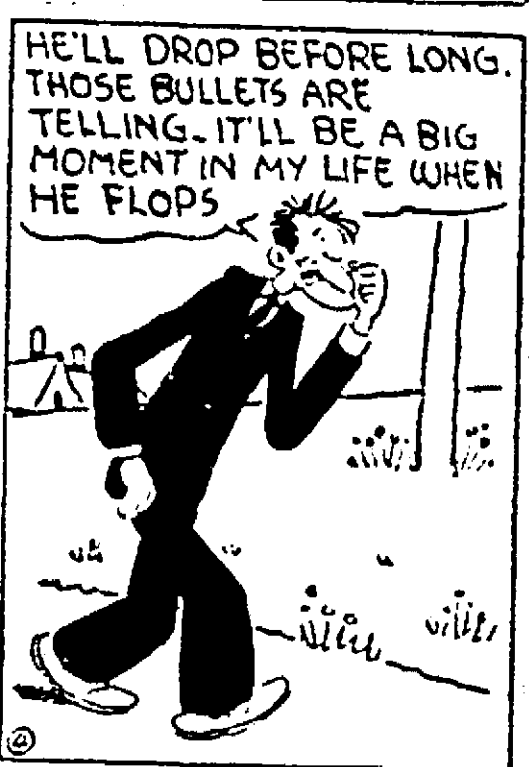

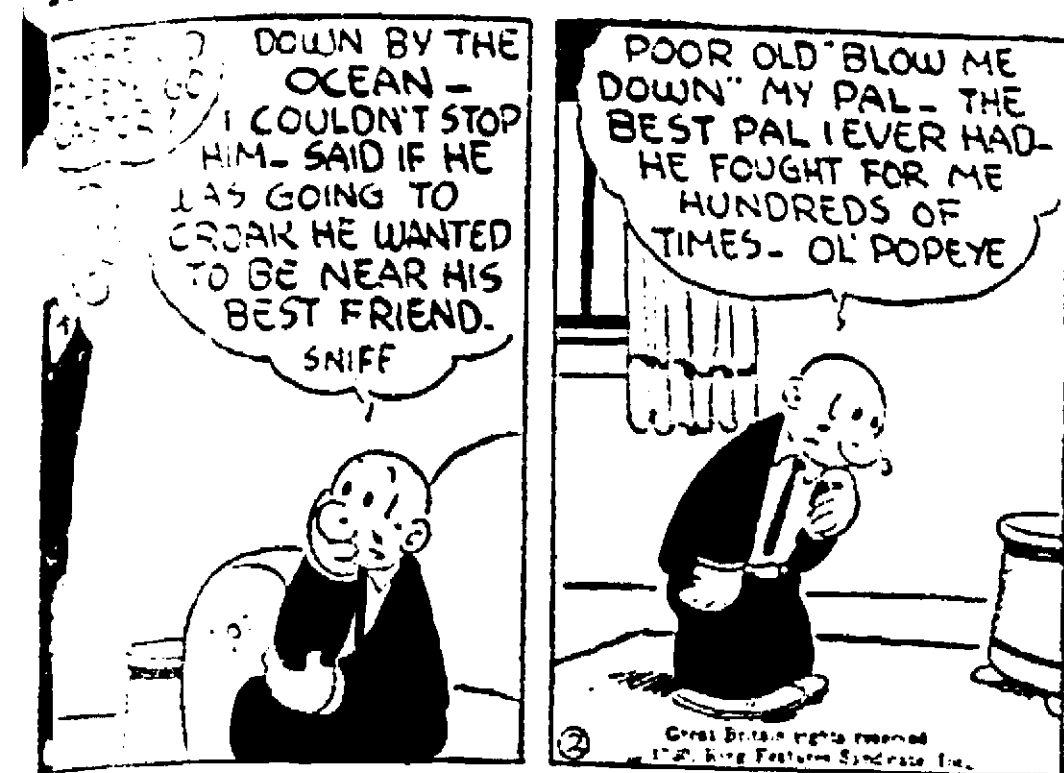

Tonight's games find Denison at Muskingum, Koyon and Ashland, Davis and Elkins at Mount Union, Georgetown college of Kentucky at Xavier and Grove City at John Carroll.
